Implementation Guides
For Adult-Related Criminal Justice Bills and Budget Riders

The Texas Criminal Justice Coalition is committed to working with practitioners to ensure they understand and fully implement positive new reforms. As such, we have created short “how to” guides about important bills and budget riders passed during the 2013 Texas Legislative Session.

We hope these guides will be helpful for practitioners, as well as system-involved individuals and family members, and others interested in juvenile and criminal justice. Please click on the links below to access each guide.

If you are unable to access a computer and would like a hard copy of a guide, please contact Jorge Renaud at the phone number above.

- Budget Rider 58: This rider directs the Ombudsman with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ) to provide an annual report to state and legislative leaders about: (1) the number and type of public inquiries it receives about TDCJ, incarcerated individuals, or staff; and (2) how those inquiries were resolved. The Ombudsman must also make that report available to the public. Click here for the guide: http://tinyurl.com/lvkvzxv

- Budget Rider 59: This rider directs TDCJ’s Reentry and Parole Divisions to examine and annually report on parole referrals and their outcomes, and to provide information on reentry barriers, along with the benefits and services that are most helpful to recently released individuals. This rider aims to identify and close gaps in the services provided to individuals preparing to reenter their communities. - Budget Rider 61: This rider directs TDCJ to perform or commission a study on its visitation policies, with the goal of making the visitation experience more child-friendly and conducive to family bonding. The rider also directs TDCJ to notify eligible visitors if visitation has been canceled or rescheduled. Click here for the guide: http://tinyurl.com/lwmr8jn

- Budget Rider 63: This rider requires TDCJ to collaborate with organizations that provide meaningful information to incarcerated individuals about a wide range of topics, including geriatric, veterans, and gender-specific issues, reentry and community programs, and many others. This rider also directs TDCJ to make this information “always available” in libraries and in any areas that will increase access to this information, thus better assisting incarcerated individuals’ rehabilitative efforts and reentry success.
