Under SB 653, the Texas Juvenile Justice Department (TJJD) has been made responsible for partnering with “local county governments, the courts, and communities to promote public safety,” as well as for “producing positive outcomes for youth, families, and communities.” To ensure these mandates are met, stakeholders must familiarize themselves with the information pertinent to their community.

The information included within this data sheet reflects the most recent juvenile data for Wichita County.

County Overview

4 A youth is formally referred to the Texas Juvenile Justice Department if face-to-face contact is made with a designated juvenile office for having engaged in delinquent activity within the Department’s jurisdiction.
5 A pre-adjudication detention center is a secure residential facility (public or private) used for temporary placement of youth who have been accused of committing an offense.
6 A post-adjudication placement involves a secure residential facility (public or private) where youth are placed after disposition of their case.

8 The Intensive Community-Based Program (Grant X) is used by local juvenile probation departments for “enhanced or additional community based programs and services for jailable misdemeanor and felony offenders.” In 2011, 8,392 youth were served under Grant X funds; 81% of those youth received treatment via programming. Texas Juvenile Probation Commission, Annual Report to the Governor and Legislative Budget Board, December 2011.
9 The Intensive Community-Based Pilot Program (Grant U) is used by local juvenile probation departments with populations over 335,000 to serve youth with chronic and serious offenses via community-based programming. In 2011, 839 youth across eight counties (Bexar, Cameron, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Harris, Tarrant, and Travis) were served by Grant U funding. Texas Juvenile Probation Commission, Annual Report to the Governor and Legislative Budget Board, December 2011.
10 As of September 2011, these grants were consolidated under Grant A along with Grants F, H, Z, I, O, R, V, and Y.
11 Data provided to TCJC by TJJD, April 2012.
12 Judge Arthur R. Tipps Juvenile Justice Center is Wichita County’s pre-adjudication facility. The County does not have a post-adjudication facility. Any placements made post-adjudication are based on each youth’s needs.
13 This number was obtained via TJJD’s Facility Registry. This is the only cost made public; it reflects the per-youth expense that another county would pay to place their youth within this facility. http://www.tjjd.texas.gov/publications/other/searchfacilityregistry.aspx.
14 Inappropriate use of solitary confinement (also known as disciplinary seclusions) and physical restraints (also known as use of force) in juvenile secure facilities create major barriers to successful rehabilitation. These concerns are especially serious for traumatized youth and youth with mental health issues. See, e.g., L.M. Finke “The Use of Seclusion is Not an Evidence-Based Practice” (2001), and G.R. Hodas “Responding to Childhood Trauma: The Promise and Practice of Trauma Informed Care” (2006).
